Dear Ludlow High School Alumni:

We are happy to be able to work with the Harris Connect group in order to bring you this directory of Ludlow High School graduates. Often one's high school years provide some of life's greatest moments and produce friendships that endure. We hope that this directory will allow people to reconnect with old friends and reminisce about their Ludlow High School years.

We are proud of all of our graduates, and we are happy to continue to be part of their lives well after their graduation day. The school as always is at your service. There is an open invitation for all alumni to stop by and visit the high school when you are in the area.

I hope that this directory finds you well and experiencing success.

Sincerely,

Gordon C. Smith

Dear Graduates:

Thank you for your participation in generating this latest edition of the Ludlow High School Directory of Graduates. It can serve as a valuable communication resource for students who attended and graduated from LHS and wish to keep in touch with one another.

The residents of Ludlow pride themselves in supporting a wide array of cultural, community and high school activities. I have observed this pride firsthand while attending musical concerts, plays, senior activities including the Senior Show, Senior Assembly and, of course, numerous sporting competitions. The community's presence, especially LHS alumni, is overwhelming.

As a graduate you have contributed to placing Ludlow High School as the flagship for our community. Thank you for your past efforts in helping us to achieve this status. We extend to all our graduates a wish for good health and future success in all your endeavors.

Sincerely,

Arlene J. Tierney
Director of Guidance

THE TOWN OF LUDLOW

The Town of Ludlow is a progressive suburban community located in the northwest corner of the metropolitan area of Springfield. It borders on the cities of Springfield and Chicopee and the towns of Granby and Belchertown, with Westover Industrial Airpark to the northwest. Town residents feel that Ludlow has established itself as a target for industrial and retail growth while maintaining its pleasant community atmosphere. Ludlow provides its residents with a community hospital, rehabilitation center and a town health department. Housing is available for the elderly, the handicapped and low income families. Ludlow provides two congregate living units accommodating a total of seven individuals, and has the largest senior center in western Massachusetts.

Ludlow's school system runs from K-12, and the town has a Boys' and Girls' Club which provides the Latch Key program for children as well as a summer youth camp and other recreational activities. The town also maintains six parks, two excellent golf courses and is only minutes away from cultural and entertainment facilities in the greater Springfield area with access to both the Massachusetts Turnpike and Route 91.

HISTORY AND STATISTICS OF LUDLOW

Because it is located among pleasant rolling hills, proximate to the cities of Chicopee and Springfield, and provides easy access to the Massachusetts Turnpike and Interstate 291, Ludlow is a desirable residential community. The numbers of its residents have steadily climbed during recent decades. Since 1990, its population has increased by 13% to 21,209.

Settled in 1775, the town developed around the Ludlow Manufacturing Company which produced jute for twine for the U.S. Postal Service. The waves of immigrants that moved from Scotland, Ireland, Poland and Portugal to work in the mills contribute to Ludlow’s ethnic flavor. The Our Lady of Fatima Festival is one of the Pioneer Valley’s largest ethnic celebrations.

Ludlow has transformed itself from its milltown past to a suburban community. Its residential neighborhoods of single- and two-family homes are growing. Interestingly, almost one quarter of the housing units are rentals.

While it is a residential community, Ludlow is more than a bedroom community. It has an established factory district, an outlet mall, and is, along with Chicopee, home to the Westover Industrial Park. Ludlow is also the site of the new Hampden County Jail. Recreational opportunities are provided at Memorial Park, Memorial Field and a state pool which was the first indoor swimming pool in Western Massachusetts. There is a town beach at Haviland Pond.
